

TAX SECTION

Your investments have to work for you. Around this time, you will receive an email from your company to submit proof of investments made during the year for Tax saving under Section 80 of the Income Tax Act. If you do not submit these on time, the company will deduct Tax at source and you will receive less salary in the three months to March.

Are these ready with you?

- Documents showing investment in Equity Linked Savings Scheme (ELSS)
- Documents showing investments in other options covered under Section 80C
- Life and health insurance premium receipts
- Rent receipts for claiming House Rent Allowance (HRA)

Did you know:

You can save up to a maximum of ₹45,000 in Tax every year by investing ₹1,50,000 in ELSS.

Have you shared the following information with your employer for them to deduct your Income Tax accurately?

- Interest from saving bank account
- Capital Gains on Shares or Mutual Fund
- Interest from Fixed Deposit and Recurring Deposit Account
- Rental income and income from other sources
