

SWATANTRA KUMAR EXPLAINS - THE RICH CAN BE FINANCIALLY HEALTHY

- No matter how less your salary is at the beginning of your career, you can inculcate good financial habits right at the start.
- Chalking out a financial plan before you begin taking small steps towards each financial goal can help you meet all of these goals effectively.
- You can start a SIP towards a financial goal with as less as ₹ 500 per month and increase it with every rise in salary.
- However, SIPs will work if you remain invested for the long term. Patience is the key, as SIPs provide the benefit of compounding.
- The longer you stay invested, the more you stand to gain.
